4 candidates are approved

Objections to four Republicans' Nov. 2 candidacy were dismissed Friday afternoon by a Madison County electoral board.

It was contended by the would-be candidates that the objections were made under statutes that apply only to primary nominating petitions, rather than to the filling of ballot vacancies.

L. Thomas Lakin, an attorney, said he will recommend seeking an injunction to prevent the four candidates from appearing on the ballot.

Only one Republican ran in the March primary for Madison County offices—Hugh Hairston of Venice for coroner—and he has since resigned.

The county's Republican Central Committee later chose four office-seekers; three of these are being challenged, along with a candidate for the Madison County Board.

There is no opposition to Dr. Robert Lynn of Alton being on the Republican ballot as coroner candidate. His Democratic opponent will be the incumbent, Mrs. Dallas Burke of Alton.

William Evers (R) of Collinsville hopes to run against State's Attorney Nicholas Byron (D) of Edwardsville. Vernon Schulte (R) of Edwardsville against Circuit Clerk Willard Portell (D) of Collinsville; Robert Lynch (R) of Bethalto against Recorder of Deeds Ronald Lucas (D) of Maryville, and Donald Emde (R) of Bethalto against District 14 County Board Member Rodger Elble (D) of Wood River.

Objectors were Donald Smith against Evers, Lakin against Schulte, Harold Oberkell against Lynch and Sandra Lee against Emde.

Portell dropped opposition to Schulte being on the ballot when Byron declined to issue a legal opinion. Byron noted that such an opinion also could have affected Evers, who hopes to

Buildings are sought for campus

State funds being sought by Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville for the fiscal year beginning July 1, 1977, include capital budget requests for four new buildings and facilities and operating budget adjustments to cover new and expanded programs, salary increases, price increases and operational costs for new buildings.

The budget proposals, with a total of $33.6 million in capital fund requests and $5.6 million in operating budget increases, were approved Thursday by the SIUE Board of Trustees, meeting at Carbondale, as part of the Resource Allocation and Management Program (RAMP), a budgeting system instituted by the Illinois Board of Higher Education.

Approval of the RAMP document is the first in a series of steps required in development of actual operating and capital fund requests.

The total operating budget request is $35,400,000, which does not include $4,474,900 needed for employer retirement contributions. This year's state appropriated resources totaled $32,082,900, including retirement contributions. Increases proposed in the operating budget include $1.6 million for new and expanded

On and off the record Never too late to date

"The Dating Game" grew up Friday at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville, with contestants selected at the eighth Senior Citizen Fair held at the university.

Winners received an all-expense paid trip to the Branson, Mo., area featuring a day at Silver Dollar City during "Older Americans' Days" Oct. 15.

"The Dating Game," hosted by Kath McDonald of KMOX-TV, was just one of the highlights of a day-long series of activities at the fair, attended by over 1,200 senior citizens from the Illinois area and St. Louis.

John Winkmeier, 80, and Carrie J. Hart, 66, both of Granite City, were winners of Dating Game One. Martin H. Schulte, 65, of Granite City and Helen F. Bertsch, 65, of Madison were winners of Game Two.

Their prize date includes a weekend at Silver Dollar City, "where America meets its past and reunites itself with its rich folk heritage."

The date will begin Thursday morning, Oct. 14, when the contestants depart from the SIUE campus for Branson. The winners will stay at the Kirkwood Motor Inn near Silver Dollar City.

After catching their breath, the daters will get a tour of the Shepherd of the Hills Farm, with a dinner at Aunt Mollie's Cupboard. They will then be treated to a performance of "The Shepherd of the Hills Drama" at the Old Mill Theatre.

On Friday, Oct. 15, the winners will spend a day touring

OK Madison school assignments, training

The Madison School District received positive state and federal news Friday.

It was announced in Springfield that the Illinois Board of Education has voted to accept students assignment plans submitted by Madison District 12 and by Elgin, Harvey, Joliet, Moline, Sterling and Urbana schools.

All but the Harvey district received a one-year waiver from having to meet fully all the board's desegregation standards.

Special conditions in the various districts were cited as preventing them from immediately meeting all the teacher and pupil assignment standards.

With the latest state board action, 22 of the 41 districts described as in non-compliance last December have had plans approved.

Congressman Melvin Price (Dem., 23rd Illinois) announced Friday that $235,000 has been awarded to Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville and Madison High School for a Teacher Corps training program. The grant is for continuation of the present Madison teacher training program, which is aimed at strengthening educational opportunities available to children in areas with concentrations of low-income families, Rep. Price said.

The $145,000 granted to SIUE will be used by the university's School of Education to develop course offerings and in-service training programs for teachers and graduate student interns. Program participants will be trained in special methods used to teach underprivileged children.

The $90,000 granted to Madison High School will be used to pay stipends to the interns and to pay some administrative costs for the program trainees as they finish training and come into the high school to teach, Price said.

The grants are authorized under the Education Professions Development Act of 1965 and cover the period through May 1977. Both schools received the same amount for the program in the 1975-76 school year.

Concern over juvenile cases

A Madison County grand jury is to be asked to review the state's juvenile offender early work release program, which some officials have termed "a massive failure."

The case of a Granite City youth, released in April from the Department of Corrections on an early work release and later charged with a murder here, is being cited as an example of the alleged failure of the program to rehabilitate juveniles.

Both the Madison County state's attorney's office and the Parole and Pardon Board recommended against allowing youth to be freed, but the Department of Corrections ignored the recommendations and released the youth.

A woman later was murdered in her home in Granite City. Don Weber, assistant Madison County state's attorney, said he has requested Howard Peters, regional director of the Department of Corrections, to appear before a grand jury Thursday, Sept. 23, to explain the early work release program and to offer statistics to support its continuation.

Weber also has subpoenaed Andy Nalefski of the Council on Youth Services, and Ewen Knezevich, juvenile officer for the Madison County Sheriff's Department, to appear before the grand jury in its probe into the effectiveness or ineffectiveness of the program.

Nalefski's group began pushing nine months ago for a probe into the program, and Knezevich has been a critic of the juvenile rehabilitative ef-

Bricks collapse

Unexpected collapse of a portion of the brick lining of the waste gas stack for the "A" coke oven battery at Granite City Steel Thursday night has temporarily shut down that battery.

With the "C" battery already down for oven repairs, it leaves the 48-oven "B" battery as the only one operating.

The work force on the coke ovens has been reduced because of the accident.

The expense resulting from the mishap, along with the cost of lost production, led to a decision to lay off certain other plant employees. About 20 were initially affected. There was no estimate of how long the layoffs might last, but on official said he expected them to continue at least until the end of September.

There are 37 ovens in "A" battery and 61 in "C" battery. Although Granite City Steel officials had no immediate estimate of the length of time operations would be reduced, the initial goal is to cut a hole on the side of the "A" stack to clear out 30 cubic yards of fallen brick so that the ovens can at least be worked at a reduced rate.

While that work is going on, plans are under way for construction of a temporary steel stack which will permit heat to be kept on the ovens, helping to prevent the irreparable damage that would result if the brick-work cooled off too much.

The "A" battery stack was built in 1919. Coke is necessary as a fuel in the blast furnaces in making iron.

Haymarket recalls anarchists' heyday

(74th of a Bicentennial year Press-Record series)
Debris from the Haymarket bomb has been falling on Illinois for 80 years.

In the 1880s, radicals attacked the police memorial in Haymarket Square. Chicago Mayor Richard Daley refused to permit a commemorative plaque to the slain workers by the Illinois Labor History Society to be placed on city property.

The police station was moved inside the nearby police station;

the Historical Society's plaque placed on private property nearby was defiled.

Haymarket has ceased to be just a tragic event; it is a symbol. The incident resulted from a combination of events: the re-emergence of the eight-hour ideal among workers; tension engendered when a handful of wild-talking and only half-serious anarchists began exchanging irresponsible threats with the Chicago press;

Cancellation by America

America, the acoustic rock group which was scheduled for Friday, Sept. 17, at the Mississippi River Festival, has been canceled.

Festival Director Lyle Ward said Friday the performance of special guest artist John Sebastian, with Silver, which was scheduled for an appearance with America, has also been canceled.

Reason given for America's inability to appear at the MRF is the illness of one of the rock group's members. He has been hospitalized and has been instructed by his physician to cancel 14 scheduled performances during September.

Members of the rock group are Dan Peek, Dewey Bunnell and Gerry Beckley. American citizens who grew up in England as Air Force "brats." The ill performer was not specified.

Ticket refunds are available at the main SIUE ticket office located in the University Center through Friday.

The performance of America, along with Sebastian, would have closed out the 1976 post-season activities of the Festival.

Instead, the MRF will close with the performance of Hal Holbrook Thursday at 8:30 p.m. On Wednesday at 8 p.m., the Chicago Symphony will perform at the Festival with Leonard Slatkin directing.

$120,000 warehouse under construction

A third addition to the Lanter Refrigerated Distributing Company, No. 3 Caine Drive, Madison, is under construction. The new addition will provide 5,000 square feet of refrigerated warehouse costing $120,000.

Lanter operates 20 of its own refrigerated trucks and contracts with other carriers for shipment to other states.

Lanter began operation in Madison in 1970 with 12,000 square feet of refrigerated storage, and in 1973 added another 11,000.

The new addition when completed will give the firm 28,000 square feet of refrigerated storage in the Madison plant.

The company employs 20 persons.

Wayne Lanter is president.

programs, nearly $3 million for salary increases, $650,000 for price increases, and nearly $300,000 for operating costs for the buildings, including the Olin Conference Center, the fifth and sixth floors of the East St. Louis Center and the new Environmental Resources Training Center.

Principal items in the capital budget request are a physical education building ($10,478,000), fine arts building ($13,057,000), television tower and transmitting facilities ($2,450,000) and a health professions facility to house the School of Dental Medicine, School of Nursing and Student Health Service on the local campus ($23,998,000).

New programs and the funds being sought for their support include: free-standing graduate school of gerontology, $73,300; educational television operating funds, $470,938; and bachelor of science, concentration in health education, no new state appropriation required.

Funds are being requested to expand the following programs:

Environmental Resources Training Center, $29,000; Graduate School, organic chemistry, $75,000; bachelor of science, biology-medical technology option, $21,260; bachelor of science in engineering with majors in electronic engineering, engineering science, industrial engineering and urban engineering, $34,700.

Also, a baccalaureate and master's program in nursing, $109,125; master of science in environmental studies, $73,400; doctor of education with specialization in the structural process, $55,720; Office of Off-Campus Programs, open university, $10,000; and education program of School of Dental Medicine, $462,000.

Proposed salary increases average 12 per cent.

Jim Metcalf, budget director and acting vice-president for business affairs, said the raises are an equity factor for administrative personnel which represents one-third of the amount required to bring SIUE average salaries up to the 1976 average salaries of public universities as reported by the American Association of University Professors.

Metcalf said the salary increase guideline for Civil Service employees provides for a pay step plan comparable to that used for department employees subject to the State Personnel Code, with the exception that the guideline purposes to achieve equity with the state system over a three-year period.

Price increases in the budget request include 17 per cent for utilities and fuel, 12 per cent for equipment and library books and 10 per cent for other non-personal services.

The budget request projects a $6.812 decrease in funding requirements for student aid in the case of reduced federal funding of loan programs and state-legislated reductions of statutory scholarships.

The budget proposal increases include $100,000 for malpractice insurance and $35,000 for tuition refunds.

The $29,276,000 capital budget request for SIUE lists 16 projects in priority order, and the requests for the School of Dental Medicine are submitted separately.

Top priority is given to the physical education building, fine arts building and television tower and transmitting facilities. Other items in descending priority order are: $61,000 for completion of fume hood in the Science Laboratory Building; $247,000 for masonry repairs, core buildings; $207,000 to rehabilitate core buildings for handicapped and safety.

$125,000 to renovate Broadway Hotel (East St. Louis Center).

$200,000 for renovation work on Alton campus.

$184,000 to replace roof on the central utility control building.

$150,000 for Olin Center access road.

$317,000 for renovation of Wagner Complex.

$161,000 for renovation of Communications Building theater.

$1,068,000 to install ceramic cooling towers.

$137,000 to expand pole barn.

$93,000 to replace parking lot lighting.

Haymarket

eagerness by some elements of the Chicago police to crack skulls; and the burning desire of a still-unknown and determined mobster to have his revenge upon society.

The eight-hour movement was revived by the Federation of Environmental Resources Training Center.

It was resolved that the eight-hour movement take effect May 1, 1986.

With endorsement by the anarchist-tinted Central Labor Union, the formation of an Eight-Hour Association with a broad base of support, and the threat of strikes if employers did not comply, Chicago lived in growing apprehension as the appointed day approached.

Trouble broke out on May 3 between the Lumber Shovers Union and police at the always-tense McCormick plant.

August Spies, German-born and the leading intellectual of the Chicago anarchists, witnessed the affair and rushed to denounce the inflammatory Resource Circular.

That famous flyer urged workers to rise in your might and destroy the hideous monster that seeks to destroy you.

Chicago Mayor Carter Harrison visited a poorly attended protest meeting near Haymarket Square the next night.

He assured police that there would be no trouble from the group.

Spite of his assurances, police Captain John Bonfield led a squad of police into the square and demanded that the already dwindling group disperse.

At that moment, a wild scream was followed by the explosion of a bomb among the police.

Seven officers eventually died, and in a wild exchange of shots 66 policemen and 12 spectators were wounded.

Chicago erupted with anti-foreign and anti-radical hysteria.

The spectacular trial of the anarchists began in July in the court of Judge Joseph E. Gary.

The prosecution created the impression of a lurid conspiratorial threat against the city by the accused.

It did not seem to matter that no one knew who threw the bomb, that it was obvious that he used did not, and that to link them directly with the deed was impossible.

Seven anarchists received the death sentence; one received 15 years in jail.

The trial was a textbook case containing most if not all of the actions deemed unconstitutional by later Supreme Court action.

Protesters kept Chicago whipped up to a hysterical pitch.

Jury members were seated who freely acknowledged that they believed the defendants guilty.

And the trial judge displayed marked prejudice against the defendants.

The defendants were sentenced to die for their political beliefs, on a theory of conspiracy which maintained it was unnecessary to prove that the unknown bomber had ever come into personal (or even written) contact with any of the defendants.

After the hysteria died down, men of conscience began to re-examine the case.

Amnesty associations pleaded with Gov. Richard Oglesby to spare the men.

He committed the sentences of the two who seemed most contrite, and allowed four others to hang. Another supposedly committed suicide in his cell.

By the 1890s, public support was growing for a pardon for the three still-jailed men.

Leading lawyers, judges, writers and intellectuals gave their support.

In 1893, Gov. John Peter Altgeld granted the men a complete pardon.

Although the amnesty groups urged pardon on grounds of compassion, Altgeld issued a ringing declaration condemning the trial process involved and personally attacking Judge Gary's conduct of the trial.

Why is there no just statue to police doing their duty and to workers as fellow human beings protesting injustice and victimized by forces beyond their individual control?

The riddle of the Sphinx is currently viewed as one place to start — i.e., until individuals or groups are willing to examine their own motives, the "Sphinx outside the gate" will continue to demand human sacrifice — of other groups or individuals, of course.

Byron also disqualified himself from hearing the objections and was replaced on the three-member electoral board by Circuit Judge Harold Clark.

Also on the board are Associate Judge A. Andreas Matosian and County Clerk Evelyn Bowles.

Dennis Douglas, an Edwardsville attorney, told the electoral board the filling of ballot vacancies is an in-traparty issue. He noted that the objectors are Democrats.

Smith, an assistant state's attorney, said citizens have a valid interest in making certain that all candidates have filed properly. Lakin agreed, saying the protests are substantive and that a court should be given an opportunity to order the names off the ballot.

"The challenge filed against my candidacy is really a challenge filed by Byron," Evers charged. He alleged that the state's attorney had "threatened to file a challenge for quite some time, but he had told several people that he would not challenge any candidate unless he was opposed."

"Byron's statement that he did not know that Smith was going to file the objection to my candidacy just doesn't wash," said Evers, "because Smith is the chief assistant state's attorney in the civil division. If Byron doesn't know what Smith is doing, then Byron isn't supervising his staff properly."

"It has also been noted that Smith is the assistant state's attorney who handled the plea negotiations in the Fazio Episode," Evers said in citing a long delay in the hearing for a Perrell aide.

"These are the same political tactics employed by Chicago Mayor Daley," Evers continued. "Eliminate your competition by compelling your political operatives to do your dirty work."

"Any fair-minded individual should be outraged by the tactics employed by the Democrats in seeking to deny the voters of Madison County a real choice in November. This action really tears away at the in-born fabric of our American political system."

Silver Dollar City, beginning with an Ozark breakfast at the Mill Restaurant. During their tour, the Dating Game couples are expected to bump into the Rainmaker and Carrie Nation and might even get caught in the crossfire of the Hatfield and McCoy feud.

Highlights of the day will include the Silver Dollar Salon show and lunch at Silver Dollar City's Lumber Camp.

After a full day at Silver Dollar City, the couples will have dinner at the Hearth'n Kettle Restaurant of the Kirkwood Motor Inn. Then they will be off to a performance of Presley's Mountain Music Jubilee.

This show, the final event on the couples' busy itinerary, originated in the mid-1960s and has been operated ever since by the Presley family. The Music Jubilee has grown over the years into one of the three most-attended country music and comedy stage shows in the United States.

On Saturday morning, Oct. 16, the couples will check out of the Kirkwood Inn following breakfast at the Hearth'n Kettle. They will arrive back at the SIUE campus at about 4 p.m.

Even the losers were winners at the Senior Citizen Fair Dating Game. Some of the prizes won by Minnie B. Kushmit and Neva L. Werthe, both of Granite City, and Bonnie Hill of Washington Park and Anita M. Wetzel of Edwardsville were:

tickets for the Chicago Symphony Orchestra at the Mississippi River Festival at SIUE Wednesday, tickets for the Viennese Chamber Music coffee concert at the SIUE University Club restaurant, and dinner for two at Rusty's Restaurant. Holiday Inn in Collinsville or Charlie's Restaurant and Lounge in Granite City.

The Dating Game was a special production held in connection with the 1976 Fall Senior Citizen Fair, sponsored by the Community Involvement Project in conjunction with the Student Activities Office-Student Affairs Division of SIUE.

Those at the fair heard the national deputy director for Older American Programs say that older Americans need meaningful jobs to perform in society.

Victor Hruska, keynote speaker, deputy director of the program for the National ACTION Office in Washington, D.C., said, "Older Americans have built our country and should still have an active role in it.

"We have done an awful lot in this country. We built this country, and maybe we built it too well. We have something that not many other countries have; we have a leisure class — the retired. In Russia, they do not even have a word for 'retired.' We now retire when we still have a lot to give to this country."

Hruska added that older Americans need less inflation. "That is hurting you more than any one thing," he told the senior citizens.

He continued, "We need all types of programs but we also need something meaningful to do. We built this country, and we still have a lot to offer."

He told the audience that the federal government has begun to respond to the need for programs, and cited the Foster Grandparents Program of ACTION as a good example.

Foster Grandparents, which recently celebrated its tenth anniversary, is composed of 14,000 senior citizens throughout the country. Eighty foster grandparents are in the Alton-to-Carbondale area, according to Hruska.

He said Foster Grandparents has been the inspiration for a new program called the Senior Companion Program. "This is when older Americans in the low-income level serve the frail and elderly," Hruska explained. "They visit them daily, semi-weekly or weekly so that these older Americans can stay in their own homes."

The director predicted that this will be one of the most successful areas in the ACTION program.

He also said that, due to action by President Gerald Ford, senior citizens can expect continued help from government. "President Ford refused to let the budget office cut the programs for senior citizens," he said.

"In fact, he restored a $15 million cut and added another $5 million, and Congress supported it."

Hruska urged senior citizens to continue to help build their communities. "We want to put a quarter of a million senior citizens in the schools to help tutor students or help in the offices," he said.

"They are welcomed in the schools by the students, and teachers also want them there. These people believe in the red, white and blue, and some of that rubs off on the kids and the younger teachers."

News notes

Gov. Daniel Walker paid a $100 fine Friday for violating a federal game regulation against using bait to hunt doves. "I've been had and I'm mad," the governor said. "A regulation which penalizes even when there is no knowledge is contrary to American tradition."

The citation said the governor and six others were hunting Sept. 1 on a Mason County Farm.

Gov. Walker on Friday vetoed a bill requiring a prompt pre-trial hearing for criminal defendants. He signed a law increasing from 10 to 30 days the time a juvenile charged with a violent crime can be detained while the prosecutor prepares for adjudicatory hearings.

Dr. Joyce Lashof, director of the Illinois Department of Public Health, last week warned that persons who are taking Triazure tablets, a prescription drug for severe cases of gonorrhea, should stop taking the drug immediately and should contact their physicians. Weber estimated that at least 90 per cent of the juveniles granted such early releases are in trouble with the law again within one year — some committing violent crimes.

Weber said the grand jury will have many options, should it agree that the early work release program is at fault.

One outcome could be a public report, critical of the department and another option could be a demand for legislation striking the release policy from the state's juvenile code, he said.

The Madison County grand jury will be the first grand jury in the state to become involved in studying the juvenile release problem, Weber noted.

A Democratic-financed poll shows Republican James R. Thompson nearly 30 points ahead of Democrat Michael J. Howlett for governor, and Democrat Jimmy Carter's lead over President Gerald Ford (R) reduced to four points. A Carter aide called Howlett "an awfully heavy guy to have on our coat tails."

A Republican-financed poll indicates Pres. Ford has closed to within four percentage points in New York state. Howlett denied that he is trailing Thompson.

President Gerald R. Ford is expected to make one or two campaign trips to Illinois this fall. Accompanied by Gov. Daniel Walker, Chicago Mayor Richard J. Daley and gubernatorial nominee Michael J. A Madison County Sheriff's Department deputy and an Edwardsville man were injured when a county squad car and the man's auto collided at Nameoki and Maryville roads at 8:30 p.m. Sunday.

Hanson was issued a traffic ticket alleging failure to yield the right-of-way to an emergency vehicle.

According to Rutledge, one out of 750,000 people get the rare disease that paralyzes the muscles.

"I really appreciated the many calls, cards, flowers and visitors I had while in the hospital. It would take me months to thank everyone personally, but the get well wishes sure made me feel good."

McBride opponent announces

Edward Sadowski, 38, of Chicago, long expected to do so, today declared his candidacy for president of the United Steelworkers of America.

I. W. Abel will be retiring, and a coalition of present officials has endorsed to succeed him Lloyd McBride, current District 34 USW director and former head of the local (St. Louis area) sub-district.

Buddy Davis of Wood River, active in the Steelworker officials at Granite City, is running for district director in conjunction with McBride's candidacy for the international presidency. The district has 36,000 members in Southern Illinois, Missouri, Kansas, Iowa and Nebraska. The 1,400,000 Steelworkers make up the largest union in the AFL-CIO Sadowski is director of the 130,000-member Chicago-Gary district.

He called today for a "change in direction in the top ranks" and charged that Abel and McBride practice "business-like unionism which leaves 20 per cent of the total membership out of work despite record production."

Action on the ordinances followed a lengthy discussion on traffic problems in the Nameki and Bellemeur shopping areas. Arrangements for the brief visit here tomorrow were confirmed today, Madison County Democratic Chairman Nelson Hagnauer said.

A transit needs survey newly completed by the East-West Gateway Coordinating Council shows "tremendous dependency on personal vehicles" among St. Louis, metropolitan area residents.

A telephone survey of over 1,000 randomly selected households included a detailed record of individual trips made during a 24-hour period by each family member over five years of age.

Points of origin and destination for each trip were recorded, along with the time, purpose and method of travel. Preliminary results show that St. Louisans are "highly mobile people who seem to travel anywhere at any time."

Transit-dependent groups, such as the elderly and handicapped, indicated some frustration due to their own lack of mobility, compared with those driving personal vehicles. Detailed results of the survey are being tabulated and analyzed. The information will be used to develop possible

Enough shipping for rail, water—Howlett

Replacement of Locks and Dam 56 near Alton will improve the economic health of all Illinois and the entire Midwest region, Michael J. Howlett, Democratic nominee for governor, said in a statement Tuesday afternoon following a boat tour of the dam area.

Howlett earlier spoke at a breakfast at Charlie's Restaurant, Granite City, attended by leaders of business, industry, labor, agriculture, utilities and transportation of Illinois and other Mississippi River states.

Howlett endorsed the dam project in a public statement last April.

This week, he said deterioration of the old locks and dam, overloads of traffic and continued future traffic growth make immediate action imperative.

"The Mississippi River is a magnificent commercial artery, through which pass grain and ore, goods and commerce, that are the lifeblood of the Midwest," said Howlett.

"More tonnage passes through here each year than goes through the Panama Canal.

"Eighty per cent of what moves on the river here is related to agriculture or energy production.

"The project will create opportunities for many of Illinois' 350,000 jobs.

"It will produce 4,500 construction jobs over the next 10 years and a 50 per cent increase in waterway industry employment—2,700 jobs—over the 50-year life of the new facility," Howlett said.

"The secondary job impact will double these figures.

"It will substantially reduce unemployment in this region, which now averages nearly 10 per cent. It will help Illinois industry, agriculture and mines to expand. The entire Midwest will benefit."

Howlett said the existing Alton facility is used to capacity, is a major bottleneck, and cost millions of dollars to shippers, carriers and consumers when a recent breakdown caused the "worst traffic jam in history."

The 54 million tons of cargo that now move through annually are expected to grow to 73 million by 1981 and 86 million by 1985, he said.

"With projected growth of that size, and with the present locks and dam deteriorating and strained to capacity, it is clear we must act now.

"The alternative—continuing to do nothing—or, as my opponent suggests, continuing endlessly to study the problem, will destroy the economic lifeblood of the region."

Howlett said the replacement plan does not lead inevitably to a 12-foot channel which he and environmentalists oppose.

He said he is sympathetic to the concern of railroads, which fear river traffic expansion will divert some of their own freight business.

"The Illinois economy is growing," Howlett said.

"As the nation's energy needs expand and our agricultural exports grow, Illinois coal and grain will be increasingly needed.

"There will be more than enough traffic to support both the railroads and the water carriers."

After touring the project site, Howlett conducted a press conference.

He said he supports federal legislation to establish waterway users charges to "maintain sound competitive balance between water carriers and the railroads."

With skilled state government leadership and economic development, he said, Illinois can pay for vital state services like education and other human needs without a tax increase.

Births on rise, deaths decline

A total of 92 births in the Quad-City area during August was a sharp increase over the 77 area births reported in the previous month, but a decline of four below 96 births during August 1975, according to a vital statistics report released by City Clerk Robert Stevens.

The report listed a total of 39 deaths last month, an increase of 18 over 21 deaths in the same month a year ago, but down six from 45 deaths in July this year.

There were no fetal deaths during August, the fifth month this year in which no fetal deaths occurred.

Births during August brought to 593 the total for the eighth month of this year, compared to 430 births reported in the same eight-month period in 1975.

The number of deaths during the eight-month period totals 317, a substantial rise over the 273 deaths reported over the same period in 1975.

The 54 million tons of cargo that now move through annually are expected to grow to 73 million by 1981 and 86 million by 1985, he said.

"With projected growth of that size, and with the present locks and dam deteriorating and strained to capacity, it is clear we must act now.

"The alternative—continuing to do nothing—or, as my opponent suggests, continuing endlessly to study the problem, will destroy the economic lifeblood of the region."

His theological degree was earned at the Theological Seminary in New Orleans, La. He married an American woman, Neil, in 1957 and they returned to Jordan in July 1959. For six years, the couple lived

Pack nutrition, safety into lunch

By JIAN MUELLER
Associate Adviser-Home Economics

Does someone in your family take a packed lunch to school or work or out into the field? With a little planning and the following food safety tips, you can make delicious, safe and nutritious packed lunches.

A mid-day meal is important to supply the nourishment your body needs to function the rest of the day. Going without lunch can lead to fatigue.

The lunchbox should always contain something from each of the four food groups: bread in sandwiches, pizza or rolls; sandwich filling from the meat group (meat, poultry, cheese, fish, eggs or peanut butter); raw vegetables or fruit; and milk to drink or in soups or cheese.

Include a nutritious dessert or treat to add interest to the lunch.

To keep lunches safe, keep hot foods hot and cold foods cold in vacuum thermos bottles. If you pack sandwiches frozen, they will thaw in time for lunch. A plastic container of ice packed in the lunchbox will keep foods cold.

If cooked and handled properly, all meat and poultry products can be used for packed lunches. Canned, dried or frozen processed lunch meats are good. Egg salad is also good. Just be sure there is some way of keeping the foods cold.

When packing hard cooked eggs, don't peel them. The shell keeps the egg free of contamination, so leave it on until you're ready to eat the egg. To save time in preparing

St. John United Church of Christ was the scene on Saturday evening of the wedding of Miss Debra Denise Bird, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Eaton Sr., 2409 East 25th St., and Lance Allen Hamilos, a son of Mr. and Mrs. William Hamilos, 2651 Lincoln Ave.

Bouquets of rainbow colored mums and greenery decorated the altar and aisle standards holding burning tapers illuminated the sanctuary for the double ring ceremony performed at 6:30 p.m. by the Rev. Dr. Paul Surbey.

Organist Mrs. Irene Rapp accompanied Gail Mueller as she sang, "Twelfth of Never," "One Hand, One Heart" and "The Lord's Prayer."

For her wedding, the former Miss Bird, selected a full length gown fashioned of white tulle with a high collar and V-yoke of Chantilly lace etched with pearls and sequins.

Matching lace enhanced the long Renaissance sleeves and bordered the chapel train which was attached to the semi full skirt.

A lace pill box headpiece held in place her veil of bridal illusion bordered with scallop lace and she carried a cascade of white roses, baby's breath, crystal pom poms and ivy.

Mrs. Ruth Ann Franko, the bride's sister, served as maid of honor. She wore a floor length salmon color knit dress designed with an Empire bodice with butterfly sleeves trimmed with lace.

The bridesmaid, Mrs. Debbie Palmer, a cousin of the bride, chose an identical designed dress in lemon yellow.

An out of town wedding of interest here was that of Miss Cynthia Dawn Kynion, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles R. Kynion, 7 Charlestown Circle, and Joseph Anthony Justice, a son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph A. Justice, North Richmond Hills, Tex., on Aug. 14 at the College Hill Church of Christ, North Richmond Hills.

The couple exchanged vows in a double ring ceremony performed at 2 p.m. by Mr. Ron Smotherman. Nuptial selections included Liebestraum No. 3 in A flat, Fur Elise, Sonata in A, Bridal Chorus from Lohengrin and Wedding March.

For her wedding the bride wore a formal wedding gown designed with a tiered antique-lace skirt of Chantilly lace over a hoop skirt, which extended into a cathedral length train. Seed pearls adorned the portrait neckline of the lace bodice fashioned with long fitted sleeves ending with petal points.

Her shoulder length veil of lace trimmed illusion was attached to a comb trimmed with seed pearls. She carried a bouquet of white and pastel pink, blue and yellow baby mums with matching streamers.

Maid of honor Mrs. Ginger Milne and bridesmaid, Miss Danna Kimberly Kynion, train bearers Kelly Robin and Kerri Lynn Kynion and the flower girl Reva Michelle Kynion are all sisters of the bride.

The honor attendant was attired in a white lace over packed lunches, plan lunches for the week to fit in with other meals.

Keep lunches in mind when preparing dinner. Left-over soups, cooked meats and desserts can be used for making the next day's lunches.

Prepare and freeze several sandwiches with assorted fillings at one time for a week's lunches.

Interceptions, other heroics help Steelers win 14-6 in opener

GCCHS North opened its 1976 gridiron season Friday night with a 14-6 victory at Cahokia in a contest which saw many heroic performances.

Penalties and turnovers were main factors in turning the contest into a thriller. Many scoring attempts were thwarted and the score was only North 13, Cahokia 6 until the eighth quarter, forcing a fourth down punt.

The kick landed on the Steelers' 49 with 6:14 of the first quarter remaining.

They used up nearly three minutes on the field and eight plays to strike paydirt.

Two incomplete passes by Quarterback Greg Corey were followed by a 32-yard pass play from Corey to Robin Smith at Cahokia's 48. The Comanches began possession on their own 13, and North's defense held the hosts to only eight yards in three downs, forcing a fourth down punt.

The kick landed on the Steelers' 49 with 6:14 of the first quarter remaining.

They used up nearly three minutes on the field and eight plays to strike paydirt.

Two incomplete passes by Quarterback Greg Corey were followed by a 32-yard pass play from Corey to Robin Smith at Cahokia's 19.

Following a five-yard penalty against North which spotted the ball at the 24, consecutive hands-off to Bruce Jaffe and Leo Pelek and again to Jaffe moved North to the opponents' three.

From there, Corey plunged into the end zone. His point-after-kick found its mark, giving the Steelers a 7-0 lead.

Aided by two 15-yard penalties, Cahokia began a touchdown drive in the second period from North's 40.

Maurice Thompson took a handoff from Quarterback Carl Carlson for a three-yard TD plunge and six points.

Attempting to take the lead, Cahokia gambled on a two-point conversion attempt but a run was stopped at the line of scrimmage by the Steelers with 4:18 left in the first half.

The one-point lead left North on top but vulnerable until the final minute of play in the game.

Cahokia had possession on its own 20 after recovering a Steeler fumble in the Comanche end zone for a touchback.

A second down pass attempt with 32 seconds left was picked off by Bruce Wright, who ran it for a touchdown. Corey's extra-point kick provided the 14th point.

Wright was instrumental in the first quarter in stopping a potential Comanche score. Cahokia had taken a Steeler kick at its 19 and ran it back to the 25.

After gaining only four yards on the next play, Carlson hit Kevin Langman with a pass.

Scrambling down the left sideline, Langman was at North's five-yard-line when Wright came from across field to make the tackle and grab the ball from the Comanche's hands.

In the second quarter, an intended for a Cahokia receiver at North's goal was picked off by Wright.

Steeler Leo Pelek garnered hero laurels in the second half, intercepting two passes within four minutes during the third quarter, one at the Steelers' 33 and another at North's 25.

"I thought our defensive unit did a fine job," commented Coach Tom Wyrstok, "and our offense wasn't bad, either."

"Mental mistakes and the fact that Cahokia played an aggressive game is what kept the contest so close."

Jaffe was the Steelers' chief ball carrier, carrying 17 times for 120 of North's 208-yard rushing total.

Smith pulled in three Corey aerials for 56 yards.

Corey connected on eight of 19 pass attempts for a total of 154 yards and had one intercepted.

North lost possession of the ball three times on fumbles and was penalized 87 yards, but gained 18 first downs.

Cahokia had 10 first downs, being limited to 92 yards rushing and 73 yards passing.

North intercepted four Comanche passes. Cahokia also lost the ball once on a fumble and was penalized for 35 yards.

DeSmet sharp on offense, defense; overpowers South 35-0

What Warrior partisans had hoped might be a GCCHS South victory turned into a wake across the river Saturday afternoon at DeSmet High School.

The powerful Spartans kept South's back to the wall and capitalized on pass interceptions and fumble recoveries for a 35-0 win in South's opener and the hosts' second game of the season.

Perhaps the overall picture is viewed best by looking at the game statistics:

Eight first downs for South, 17 for DeSmet; 94 yards rushing for South, 296 for DeSmet; and 54 yards passing on four completions for Warrior Quarterback Keith Champion, who was intercepted once.

South lost four aerials to interceptions and the Spartans were intercepted once.

Cliff Moran was the Warriors' leading ball carrier, 12 for 25 yards, and Mike Forshee was the recipient to one pass for 20 yards to lead that department.

After taking the opening kickoff, South found itself in its own end of the field for the entire first quarter and could not penetrate Spartan territory until after nearly four minutes of the second period while trailing 7-0.

DeSmet had scored 30 seconds into the second quarter, concluding a 58-yard drive that began with 5:50 left in the first period.

The hosts scored on the ground again less than two minutes into the third period, returning South's kickoff to the 39 and then moving on the ground into the end zone.

Five minutes later, DeSmet tallied on a pass following an interception of a Warrior pass at the Spartan 32 yard line.

Less than two minutes later in the same period, another pass interception gave DeSmet possession at South's 10. Two plays later, an eight-yard dash led to a 28-0 Spartan lead.

A South fumble in the final quarter with 5:48 left was recovered by DeSmet on the Warrior 20 and four plays later DeSmet had its fifth TD of the game, the fourth from a running play.

South's only penetration into the Spartans' half of the field in the second quarter was the result of a DeSmet fumble at its own 44, recovered by South's Dave Thornton.

Gains of 13, seven and then two yards on carries by Dan Terrell, Hicks, Alfred Crawford and Wallace, Mike Clark and Cliff Moran gave South good field position at the enemy 22 with 1:40 remaining in the half.

A handoff to Moran advanced the ball to the 15, and passes to Moran and then Clark had South knocking on the TD door with 19 seconds to play.

DeSmet stopped a Warrior scoring attempt on the next play and the threat expired with the time on the clock.

South was pinned in its own half of the field for the remainder of the contest. Attempts to move downfield were thwarted by pass interceptions and fumbles.

DeSmet, which finished second in the state of Missouri in the 1975 football playoffs, utilized as pointmakers Saturday Dave Calcaterra, with five placed kicks, and four runners and a pass receiver.

Jim Klein and Mark Daniels ran for one-yard touchdowns and Mark Albertson hauled in a Klein pass on a 33-yard scoring play.

Dave Dollar then ran the ball over from eight yards out, and Ray Jzewak advanced five yards for the final TD.

Trojan rally falls short, 21-14, in grid game at St. Genevieve

First-year Coach Nick Jakich's Madison High School football squad performed Saturday night against Valley High School at St. Genevieve, Mo., with such gallantry and execution that fans might have thought it was the season-ending game and an undefeated Trojan record was on the line.

Madison lost the contest 21-14, but the final score failed to reflect the true nature of the first-year meeting between the two schools.

Six penalties, had one pass intercepted and fumbled away the ball once.

Sophomore James Heard rushed for 93 of Madison's total yardage as the Trojans gained 14 first downs. Valle had 24 first downs.

Rudy Rangel and Prince Giles pulled in 35-yard passes for Madison.

Following the opening kickoff taken by Valle, the contest was a battle between both defensive units, first Valle and then Madison was held on defense.

Valle proved capable of penetrating Madison's defense later in the first period when the host marched 67 yards from their own 20 in 12 plays to Madison's 19-yard-line. From the 13, Valle executed a touch-down pass from Quarterback Mike Seibel to Mark Fallert with 3:28 left in the period.

Twice Madison invaded Valle territory, only to surrender the ball upon failing on fourth down.

Late in the second period, Valle took possession on its own 44 and ground its way in 12 plays to Madison's two-yard line.

A strong Trojan defense stopped two ground plays before the hosts took to the air with Seibel-to-Mike Loida pass into the end zone with 1:38 left in the half to lead 14-0.

Refusing to go into the halftime break scoreless, Madison fought back. Alfred Crawford took the ensuing kickoff at his 11 and returned it 21 yards to Madison's 32.

Runs by James Heard moved the ball to the 47, before the Trojans crossed midfield on a long pass play to Rudy Rangel. He pulled the ball in amidst the hosts' chanted arms of the defenders and sprinted to Valle's 11 before being stopped.

With 56 seconds left on the clock, Heard gained a yard and then on a pitchout run around left end ten yards to paydirt.

A two-point conversion failed when Quarterback Joe Piechowski tried to run the ball across and was downed behind the line of scrimmage.

The half ended 14-6 as Madison's Karl Hicks intercepted a Valle pass at the Trojan 44-yard-line.

Neither side was able to move the ball on downs in the opening minutes of the third period.

Once, with Valle at Madison's 35 on a third down with five yards to go, Trojans Prince Giles and Robert Booker broke through the defensive line to throw the quarterback for a nine-yard loss.

Another time, tackles made by Jeff Thompson, Harold Terrell, Hicks, Alfred Crawford and Michael Bartley held Valle to a total gain of 16 yards.

Late in the third quarter, with Madison in possession at its own 21, a pass was picked off by Valle at the 40 and returned to the 22. The runner was brought down by Giles, the only defender between him and the end zone.

Three plays later, Rick Otte of Valle sprinted 14 yards for a touchdown with 38 seconds left in the quarter, increasing the lead to 21-6.

Penalties and MHS defensive efforts thwarted Valle drives in the final quarter and a fumble recovered by Madison set up a successful drive.

Madison had punted to the Valle 40 and on, the first play from scrimmage Trojan Duane Bochantin fell on a loose ball with 5:51 left to play.

The Trojans started their scoring effort with an overthrown pass, but a five-yard penalty Valle placed the ball at the hosts' 35-yard marker.

Another Trojan pass fell incomplete and a handoff to Heard resulted in the carrier being downed behind the line at Steeler Goalkeeper Mike Hill was credited with all 10 saves. Fouls were 11 for North and five for the hosts.

New Trier West scored after 16 minutes of the second quarter and threatened to shut out the Steelers until the final period, when Youn took a pass from Steve Seales to score for 13 minutes had elapsed, sending the game into overtime.

The contest was decided on penalty kicks after two scoreless five-minute overtime periods.

New Trier got two of five scoring attempts past North goalie Hill, but Jeff DeMott, Marty Dooley and Youn each put the ball into the net for the win.

The defending late model stock car titlist here all but insured himself of a second straight season title after leading Bill Myers and Mike Hammerle across the finish line in the main event.

His son, Mike, won a heat race in the sportsman division and then captured that feature race after a wheel-to-wheel battle all the way with Granite City's Chuck Milam, who placed second. Current point leader Kris Krohn of St. Louis also was a heat race winner.

Four heat race events were held in late model competition, winners were C. C. Corbin, Johnny Prior, Mike Fogelback and Ralph Knox.

COACH AND PLAYER REUNITED. Former Granite City South coach Wayne Williams (right) and Tom Schooley are beginning the 1976 University of Illinois football season at Champaign - Urbana. Williams, who coached Schooley in his junior year at Granite City, is in his second year at Illinois as offensive end coach. He came to Illinois after a one-year stay at Illinois State. Schooley is transfer from Illinois State in his first competitive season at Illinois. In spring practice, he looked impressive enough at the swingback position to warrant a number two ranking at that position. An injury to No. 1 player Earl Tate has since pushed Schooley into the starter's job.

Baker 'fastest with the mostest' again

Steeler harrier Mike Baker, a junior, captured first place Saturday morning on a hilly, 2.9-mile cross-country course at Belleville during the annual Belleville West Invitational won for a second straight year by Alton.

GCCHS North tied with the hosts for third place, and GCCHS South was eighth.

Baker's time of 13 minutes, 55 seconds was the second fastest time ever turned in on the course. Former Lebanon standout Craig Virgin holds the record there.

Each team entered seven runners in the meet, with the harriers pre-seeded one through seven. They ran against each other in seven different races — all the top-seeded runners against each other and all the second-seeded runners against each other.

The worst finish for each team in each race was allowed to be discarded, so a perfect score would be six points.

Alton won the meet with a near perfect eight points after five Redbird harriers posted first-place finishes.

Rounding out the school finishing positions behind Alton were Centralia with 19 points, North and West 21 each, Lebanon 22, Belleville East 37, O'Fallon 49, South 43, Edwardsville 50, Mascoutah 56, East St. Louis Lincoln 64 and Cahokia 69.

Placing first in North in their events were Greg Stout third in 15:01, Don Lucy third in 15:13, Dave Elbrecht fourth in 15:29, John Bracamotes eighth in 16:37, Mike Johns ninth in 17:29 and Ed Futch second in 16:19.

Finishing for South in their respective events were Glen Ahlers 10th in 15:51, Dave Taylor 10th in 16:29, Dave Blackwell 10th in 16:15, James Dumont seventh in 15:54, Ken Meagher third in 15:45, Dave Houston sixth in 16:29 and Scott Ahlers eighth in 17:07.

Golfers compete in Quincy meet

GCCHS South and GCCHS North golfers participated Saturday morning in an 18-school tournament at Quincy on an 18-hole, par-70 course. Quincy won the meet, South was 15th and North 16th.

Individual scores for both Granite City schools were:

South — Herman Schroeder 88, Benny Brown 89, Bob Filer 90, Bob Crawford 92, Al Collins 96, North — Dan Harper 85, George Bartz 92, Russ Chappell Jr., 93, Doug Kraus 94 and Mike Cella 97.

Divers compete in Bubblemaster meet

About 150 local scuba divers and their family members attended annual skin-scuba spearfishing and treasure hunt contests held last week by the Bubblemasters Scuba Diving Club at Pontiac Boat Dock on Bull Shoals Lake, Mo.

The three-day dive concluded with a fish fry and presentation of prizes. A total of $500 in diving gear was awarded to the successful contestants.

An auction of donated items also highlighted the diving meet and resulted in $264 added to a special fund to purchase food and other gifts for Christmas baskets to be distributed by the Bubblemasters to needy families.

The gift program and the annual awards banquet Nov. 6 at the Collinsville Holiday Inn will be discussed at the local club's regular meeting at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday at the Tri-City Area YMCA.

Current members and prospective divers are invited to attend the planning session.

In the spearfishing (skin diving) competition, Phil Lamm made the top catch to win the "most fish" award.

Walter Marzuli was second and David Davis, third.

Tom Gracey won the "largest fish" trophy in the skin diving contest.

Decline in students' knowledge of mathematics has been halted

A report describing the educational plans, curricular interests, test scores and academic and extracurricular achievements of one million 1976 high school graduates was released yesterday by the College Entrance Examination Board of New York.

Students described in the report, entitled College-Bound Seniors, 1975-76, represent one-third of all 1976 high school graduates and approximately two-thirds of all freshmen who will enter college this fall.

Highlights of the report show:

1. The Scholastic Aptitude Test (SAT) verbal average of the high school graduates dropped three points and the mathematical average remained the same as the previous year. 1976 seniors earned more scores above 600 than 1975 seniors on both the verbal and mathematical sections of the SAT.

2. For the second consecutive year, there are more women than men in the population. And for the first time since 1972, the percentage of minority students is up from a virtually constant 14 per cent to 15 per cent.

3. Compared to their predecessors, the 1976 senior class members seem to be more interested in health sciences—particularly pre-medicine and nursing.

4. Nearly a quarter of the women intend to major in health-related areas and 13 per cent in education, of the men, 16 per cent intend to major in engineering and 14 per cent in business and commerce.

5. Forty-six per cent of the men and 36 per cent of the women plan to complete a bachelor degree; the percentage of women aspiring to a doctor of philosophy degree increased more rapidly than that of men for the third consecutive year.

6. The average of seniors' grades in six subject areas is 3.12 or B. Women had higher grade averages than men except in mathematics and physical sciences, but men's grades have been increasing about twice as fast as women's over the last four years.

7. The median family income of students included in the report is $16,400, up about six per cent from 1975, but less than the rate of inflation. The average parental contribution toward college expenses is estimated at $1,170, at the same time, the average annual cost at public four-year institutions is $2,300. Of all families represented in the report, about three-fourths cannot pay for their education at these institutions.

8. The information appears in College-Bound Seniors, 1975-76, an annual report which summarizes and compares students' scores on the Scholastic Aptitude Test and achievement tests, and the responses to 50 biographical questions on the Student Descriptive Questionnaire (SDQ).

9. The SAT is a standardized measure of developed verbal and mathematical reasoning abilities acquired both inside and outside of school.

10. College and scholarship sponsors use the test to compare candidates whose grades may not be comparable since they are earned at widely differing schools.

Further details of the report follow:

Average scores for seniors on the SAT-verbal declined three points below those of 1975 to 431, but remained unchanged at 472 on the mathematical section.

On the SAT-verbal, male averages declined four points from 437 to 433 between 1975 and 1976, and female averages declined one point from 431 to 430.

On the mathematical section, averages for males went up from 495 to 497, while averages for females declined three points, from 449 to 446.

At the highest score range on the 200 to 800 SAT scale, 82,000 of the 1976 seniors have SAT-verbal scores at or above 600, an increase of four per cent over 1975. SAT-verbal scores in the 200-400 range increased by about six per cent. Scores decreased by four per cent in the 400-600 range.

SAT mathematical scores also changed at each extreme, with a five per cent increase in the number scoring at or above 600 and a three per cent increase in the number scoring below 400.

Reading comprehension and vocabulary sub-scores on the verbal section of the test indicate that men have higher overall verbal scores because they do better on the vocabulary questions—the analogies and antonyms—than women.

Women, however, have higher scores than men on the Test of Standard Written English, a new test of English usage introduced experimentally in 1974 to help colleges place freshmen in appropriate English courses.

Between 1975 and 1976, the average score for all achievement tests increased from 531 to 538.

For each of the 15 tests, average scores remained relatively stable, except for the most popular test, the English Composition test, which increased 17 points from 515 to 532.

Whether the dramatic increase in influenced by a response to a national concern for the writing ability of college-bound students or is distinctive of the 1976 seniors taking the test cannot be fully determined at this time.

George Hanford, senior vice president of the College Board and project coordinator of the Advisory Panel on Score Decline said Sunday all of the new score data will be reported to the panel by its evaluation.

Chaired by Willard Wirtz, president of the National Manpower Institute, the 21-member panel was established by the College Board and the Educational Testing Service in October 1975 to assess the various explanations for the decline in SAT scores and to recommend research to clarify it.

A progress report on the work of the panel will be made at the College Board's national forum and annual meeting Oct. 24-26 in New York.

The report indicates that, of 200 fields of study, seniors are most interested in pre-medicine, registered nursing, accounting, business management, physical education, secretarial studies, mathematics and engineering.

This year, pre-medicine, accounting and nursing registered the largest increase in popularity.

Of 29 broad curriculum areas, six receive more than half of the responses—health and medicine, business and commerce, education, engineering, social sciences, and biological sciences.

Sex differences emerge in the analysis: for men, the most popular choice is engineering (15.9 per cent), and 91 per cent of all engineering respondents are male.

For women, the most popular choices are health and medicine (23.7 per cent), which is 69 per cent female, and education (12.9 per cent), which is 77 per cent female.

About one-fourth of the seniors are undecided about the highest level of education they plan to complete.

Only eight per cent of the women and four per cent of the men plan to complete a two-year program, while 46 per cent of the men and 36 per cent of the women plan to complete a B.A. degree.

Although more men than women continue to express an interest in the Ph.D. and other professional degrees, the rate of increase for women is rising faster than that of men.

Women's aspirations for more education increased more rapidly than men's for the third consecutive year.

The report shows that the seniors who participated in the admissions testing program are high achievers.

The number in honors courses nearly doubled for all academic areas between 1973 and 1976. And about 60 per cent of the graduates, up eight per cent since 1973, plan to apply for advanced placement, course credit or exemption from required courses.

Since 1973, the graduates of each successive class have reported slightly higher grades.

Three-fourths of this year's college-bound graduates rank themselves in the top two-fifths of their high school class.

The average of their grades in six subject areas is 3.1 or "B."

Although women report higher grade averages than men in all areas except mathematics and physical sciences, men's grades have been increasing about twice as fast as women's over the last four years.

Over the last few years, there has been a shift—caused primarily by changes in women's preferences—away from interest in foreign languages and social studies toward physical and biological sciences.

Financially, the students divide themselves into three approximately equal groups: family incomes below $12,000 a year; between $12,000 and $20,000; and above $20,000.

The median family income is $16,400, up six per cent from 1975.

Students estimate their parents can contribute a median of $1,170 toward their college costs, with striking ethnic variations: $100 for blacks, $200 for Puerto Ricans, $210 for Mexican Americans, $570 for American Indians, $960 for Orientals and $1,380 for whites.

Over three quarters of all families cannot fully contribute to the cost of education at a four-year public institution with average annual budgets of $2,800.

Only 15 per cent could contribute fully to the cost of education at private four-year colleges; this cost averages $4,600.

Copies of College-Bound Seniors, 1975-76 are available from the College Board, Department PA, 888 Seventh Ave., New York, N.Y. 10019.

Morris endowment fund at university

An endowment fund has been established with the Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville Foundation in honor of Delyte W. Morris, according to Charles B. Schweizer, director of the Foundation.

Income from the fund will be used to establish the Delyte W. Morris Award Fund, an award recognizing the outstanding graduating senior each spring who has displayed the highest potential in scholastics, character, social leadership and ambition.

The recipient of this award will be chosen from the various disciplines, Schweizer said. The Delyte W. Morris Scholarship Fund was originally established in 1952 at Carbondale for the purpose of granting scholarships and awards to deserving students of SIU.

It is from the Carbondale fund that Dr. and Mrs. Morris have directed that $5,000 be transferred to the local campus to establish an endowment fund.

Morris was president of Southern Illinois University from 1948 until 1970. He and his wife now reside in Gilbertville, Ky.

Mock election in schools this fall

Illinois junior and senior high school students will vote in the upcoming national election, along with regular registered voters, as part of a mock election program sponsored by the State Board of Elections in cooperation with the State Board of Education.

Illinois is the first to inaugurate such a statewide program. According to Franklin J. Lunding Jr., chairman of the State Board of Elections, the mock election program is designed to familiarize high school students with voting procedures and to convey to them the importance of their right to vote.

In order to make the program both realistic and practical, Lunding said, "we have provided the means for students actually to vote for candidates on the Illinois November ballot. They will mark their choices for president and vice president and for Illinois governor, lieutenant governor, attorney general, secretary of state and comptroller."

To that end, more than 1,500 history and civics teachers in schools throughout the state soon will be receiving background information, materials and details on step-by-step procedures to conduct the mock election.

Lunding said the mock election "should help make students aware of voter qualifications and registration," encourage them to investigate the issues and "speak out" for the candidates of their choice.

"In addition," he said, "they'll learn about voting procedures and the Illinois laws that govern the election process."

Results of the mock election may be reported by individual schools.

Last spring, the State Board of Elections, in cooperation with the State Board of Education, conducted a similar program in which more than 18,000 elementary school children participated.

The youngsters were given the opportunity to experience how campaigning influences the voter to learn how to vote by paper ballot, and to understand the importance of voting in secret.

"The response from teachers and principals was so enthusiastic," Lunding said, "that we intend to repeat the program next year."

CHICAGO SYMPHONY. The widely-praised orchestra will perform at the Mississippi River Festival on the SIUE campus Wednesday evening.

Chicago Symphony to play Wednesday

Perfection, according to the critics, is what the Chicago Symphony Orchestra is all about. The Symphony will be performing Wednesday at the Mississippi River Festival, on the campus of Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville, as part of a special post-season three nights of activities at the MRF.

"We are proud to have the Chicago Symphony Orchestra with us at the River Festival," said Festival Director Lyle Ward. "With Leonard Slatkin as guest conductor, the Symphony should provide an evening of unparalleled music for people in this area."

The Chicago Symphony, third oldest symphony in the country, has for years been rated one of the top symphonies in the world. When Sir Georg Solti became music director in 1969, the already elevated rating moved even higher.

In the 1973-74 season, the Symphony under maestro Solti set what one critic called "the ultimate symphonic standard."

"The praise became so great that another critic claimed 'one measures the rest of the world's orchestras by how they compare to the Chicago.'"

In a history dating back to 1891, the Chicagoans have consistently refused to settle for second best. By the 1920s, under the direction of Frederick Stock, the Chicago Symphony had become recognized worldwide for excellence.

In 1919, the Civic Orchestra of Chicago was formed by Stock to provide a training ground in professional symphonic music for future musicians in the Chicago Symphony itself.

Despite the Symphony's long history, it was the advent of Solti that the most ecstatic acclaim.

After just a few months at the helm of the orchestra, Solti brought his musicians to New York's Carnegie Hall, where a critic proclaimed that "musical perfection was finally achieved by mortal men."

Such praise, outrageous as it may sound, soon became standard critical commentary. Even the foreign press, during the Symphony's tours abroad, said that the orchestra had "not a single failing, impeccable virtuosity in every section; admirable sonorities, rounded, full, warm and brilliant" (Brussels Le Travail).

The London Times said simply, "Nobody could doubt that this is about the most formidably equipped orchestra in the world at present, with its lush string, fervent winds and exuberant brass."

In its 8:30 p.m. Wednesday performance at the River Festival, the Chicago Symphony will be performing Berlioz's Overture, "The Roman Carnival," Opus 9 as the opening number.

Barber's "Adagio for Strings" will follow, with Strauss' "Der Rosenkavalier Suite" closing the first half of the evening.

After an intermission, the Symphony will perform Prokofiev's "Symphony No. 5," Opus 100.

Guest conductor Leonard Slatkin, now in his eighth season with the St. Louis Symphony, is one of the most sought-after young conductors in the country.

He has appeared regularly with the Chicago Symphony Orchestra and is also principal guest conductor with the Minnesota Orchestra.

Slatkin made his conducting debut at Carnegie Hall when 22 years old and has since risen

Arrest youth in car burglary

A youth discovered hiding near some bushes in the 2500 block of Nameoki Road, at 12:15 a.m. Wednesday, was taken to police headquarters for investigation and later charged with two counts of auto burglary.

Robert A. Elmore, 17, of 1603 Kirkpatrick Homes, reportedly was found by the arresting officers lying on the ground with a large empty plastic bag at his side. A few feet away on the ground were a drill motor, portable spotlight, a citizen's band radio and an eight-track stereo AM-FM radio.

Elmore was taken before a judge at 3:35 p.m. Wednesday and pleaded innocent to each charge. Bond was set at $4,500 on each count and a mittimus was issued. He was released to Madison County deputies at 1:30 a.m. today.

The charges involved the looting of a parked and locked van belonging to Dewayne Dickerson, 2829 Warren Ave., who reported the theft of a 23 channel CB radio and power microphone, valued at $160, and a wallet, containing $10. The items were taken Tuesday night and reported stolen at 6:30 a.m. Wednesday.

steadily into the front rank of orchestra leaders.

Tickets for the Chicago Symphony Orchestra performance are available at the box office at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville and at other locations around the St. Louis area and Southern Illinois.

MR. AND MRS. MAX G. LAKE. They were united in marriage at St. Peter's Church in St. Charles, Mo. Formerly Jane M. Sasyk, the bride is a daughter of Mrs. Pearlina Sasyk of St. Louis and Nick Sasyk of Granite City.

Miss Jane Sasyk bride of Max Gregory Lake

Miss Jane M. Sasyk became the bride of Max Gregory Lake in an evening candlelight ceremony on Aug. 6 at St. Peter's Church in St. Charles, Mo.

Father Rich Heman officiated at the double ring ceremony, partially written by the couple, at 7 o'clock.

A gular mass was provided by Sharon and Tom DeGref and included selections "Song for a Special Day," "Wherever You Go," "I Have Come to Bring You Life More Abundantly," "Let There Be Peace on Earth," "The Wedding Song," "Behold Your Mother" and "For All We Know."

The bride is a daughter of Mrs. Pearlina Sasyk of St. Louis and Nick Sasyk of Granite City. Parents of the groom are Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Lake of Florissant, Mo.

For her wedding the bride chose a white organza gown fashioned in an Empire silhouette. The scoop neckline and long tapered sleeves were appliqued with Chantilly lace motifs etched with pearls.

Matching appliques were repeated on the full skirt. A lace headpiece secured her fingertip veil and she carried a cascade of white snow crystal pom poms, roses and baby's breath.

Mrs. Joan Melroy, a twin sister of the bride, served as matron of honor with bridesmaids, Mrs. Carol Holcomb, another sister of the bride and Miss Mary Lake, the groom's sister.

They selected identical jersey halter dresses designed with Empire waistlines and complemented with a sheer chiffon cape in peach, yellow and aqua hues.

Each girl wore a band of pom poms in her hair and carried identical bouquets of peonies and baby's breath in colors to match their dresses.

The groom chose John Redel as his best man, Tom Vorbeck, Bill Vordtreck, John Mattwell and Chuck Schulte completed the corps of groomsmen and ushers.

After the ceremony a reception was held at Finniger's Party House in Baden, Mo. Parents of the groom hosted a rehearsal dinner in their home.

A wedding trip to Orlando and Daytona Beach, Fla. was taken by the couple who are now residing in Florissant.

The former Miss Sasyk graduated from Granite City High School in 1970 and from Eastern Illinois University in 1974. She is now teaching the first grade at St. Peter's School in St. Charles. Her husband was graduated from Cleveland High School and is employed at Cobak Tool and Die Co. as a machinist.

Program on 'Teen Challenge'

The Reverend Jack Borth, executive director of St. Louis Teen Challenge, will minister and present the program of Teen Challenge at Tri-City Park Tabernacle, 2501 Clark St., on Wednesday.

Teen Challenge is an interfaith drug rehabilitation program. Teen Challenge was started over 15 years ago by the Reverend David Wilkerson, a young man who felt a burden for the lost and troubled youth in New York City after reading about how seven youths stabbed a 15-year-old police victim to death merely for "kicks."

The program in this metropolitan area is the result of the work started in New York City, and has residences for both young men and young women. Teen Challenge has grown until now there are centers throughout the United States and major foreign countries of the world, Rev. Borth said.

Thousands of young people have been involved in juvenile delinquency, alcoholism, prostitution or drug addiction, have been helped through the resources of Teen Challenge; and today these young people are living testimonies of how the power of the gospel of Jesus Christ can change a person's life and set them free.

The rate of successful rehabilitation for these young people is phenomenal with 45 percent to 80 percent returning to society completely cured, he added, noting that the complete story of Teen Challenge is very well presented in the book "The Cross and the Switchblade" by the Reverend David Wilkerson. Over five million copies have been sold and a new film has been released, also titled "The Cross and the Switchblade," starring Pat Boone as Rev. Wilkerson.

Teen Challenge of St. Louis, like all Teen Challenge centers located in the major cities across the United States is operated on a non-profit basis and is supported by churches and individuals interested in helping the youth, Rev. Borth said.

Business Women to hear metric system outline

The "Metric System" will be the topic of Dr. Robert Williams, associate professor of elementary education at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville, when he addresses the Business and Professional Women's Club of Granite City this week.

The dinner session will take place at 6:30 p.m. Wednesday at Charlie's Restaurant, according to Miss Annelen Smith, coordinator of the Individual Development Program and dinner chairman.

Any working woman interested in attending the meeting is invited to contact Mrs. Elvira Thurber at 876-0535, from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m., or Miss Smith at 451-4066 for reservations.

Plans for the 1976 edition of the Individual Development Program will be outlined at the dinner, Miss Smith advised. The new series of classes will commence Sept. 30 at the new Salvation Army Building on East 23rd Street.

At least 14 persons must enroll for the course to begin, the chairman said.

Objectives of personal development program are numerous and active participation can result in an individual becoming more expressive, confident and achieve effective communication, Miss Smith explained.

The course also enables members to take part in a continuing plan for individual development; provides orientation for new members and an in-depth understanding of BPW and its objectives; develops leadership potential and more effective communication and self expression; and raises the level of motivation and self-assessment, the course instructor said.

The Rev. Donohoe reminded the parents of their duty to the school and church and urged all organizations to work together. He concluded his talk with an outline of rules and regulations to be followed by all members of the parish and various church organizations.

Says he is being denied benefits

To the Editor: I have been a resident of Granite City for most of my life and have been employed by the Granite City Street Department since June 1974. In the last election for superintendent of streets, I worked and voted for Mac Warfield, which I thought was my constitutional right, and didn't realize I would pay for it. The day after the election, I and another employee were given two-week notices to find other jobs. The union stepped in, and Sup't. Lionel Portell denied that he fired us. As a temporary employee, I do not receive any benefits, such as insurance, vacation, sick leave or paid holidays. I have a wife and two children and need the benefits. I have been passed up six times for a permanent job. I feel that I am as qualified, if not more qualified, than any of the other six men who have been hired in the past two years. I have been there longer than any of them. The unions say there is nothing they can do. Mr. Portell said that as long as he is superintendent, I won't get a permanent job. I feel that I have been doing an excellent job of exercising my constitutional right and voting the way I see fit. Escrow funds take unfair advantage

To the Editor: One wonders if the general public is aware of the advantage that loan institutions have taken of them in recent years. It has become a general policy of these institutions to require prepayment of taxes and insurance on properties on which they hold mortgages. Funds deposited in these escrow accounts do not pay interest to the depositors and serve as an important source of income for the loan institutions. In many cases, the loan institutions have been charging more per month than actually required, and relatively large balances are carried at all times. Recently, property taxes have been raised, and persons who have loans of this type can easily check their account books to see if large balances are left. If these amounts seem excessive, it is suggested that you complain to the institution and write to federal and state representatives requesting that reasonable legal protection be enacted — including restrictions of payment demands and interest on escrow deposits. State-honored team praises coverage

To the Editor: I feel our season of American Legion baseball was very rewarding to the players, coaches, Tri-City Post 113 and myself. But without your fine press coverage and interest, our season would have been just another game.

Our townspeople, players, coaches and those I have run into from other areas are still talking about our season. The communication through the press made this possible. Many thanks to you and the members of your staff involved. We sincerely appreciate the interest and coverage of our team.

I hope we can continue the winning spirit next spring at South High School and next summer with American Legion baseball in Granite City. CONRAD "Babe" CHAMPION Manager, American Legion Tri-City Post 113 baseball team

SIUE budget up slightly

The Southern Illinois University Board of Trustees Thursday approved a $2,082,900 internal budget allocation for SIUE at Edwardsville, based on state appropriations for the July 1, 1976, to June 30, 1977, year. A breakdown of the budget shows $17,999,051 going for instruction and departmental research and $254,334 for organized activities related to educational departments. Budget categories and amounts also include:

Travel — $247,800; equipment — $69,900; maintenance — $1,245,600; contractual services — $3,084,100; operation of automotive equipment — $194,300; telecommunications — $466,800; fellowships — $112,500; fire protection — $81,500; retirement contributions — $1,316,600; refunds — $144,000; and student aid — $40,700.

The total university operating budget, including anticipated state and federal funds, will be submitted to the Board of Trustees in October. Last year, the board approved a $41,969,931 budget for SIUE, based on income of $30,467,400 from state appropriations and estimated income of $11,502,531 from non-appropriated sources.

Plan 'finishing touches' on 2 new classroom buildings

Authorization to seek release of $50,000 in state appropriated funds to complete Classroom Buildings II and III on the campus of Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville was approved Thursday by the SIUE Board of Trustees. The board resolution directs the acting president of SIUE to take action to obtain general revenue funds appropriated for SIUE for 1976-77 by Senate Bill 1646.

The funds will be used to provide such items as interior graphics, move-in expenses, telephone and fire alarm installations, site work, initial floor cleaning and waxing, landscaping and utility connections. The new buildings, scheduled for occupancy during the fall quarter, will provide space for 30 classrooms, 172 laboratories and 340 offices.

The buildings are connected at the basement level and by a 20-by-40-foot "bridge," an enclosed walkway between the second floors of the buildings. Ground was broken for the $14.4-million construction project in March 1973 and the buildings were dedicated in ceremonies May 13, 1976, ten years from the date that dedication ceremonies were held for the permanent university campus at SIUE.

Wakes up to find intruder in room

Guy Miller, 2144 Cleveland Blvd., awakened Thursday and saw a man climbing through an unlocked window into the room, he informed police. Miller said they "stared at each other a moment," then the intruder struck him on the head three times with a soft drink bottle, cutting his forehead.

The unknown assailant ran out of a rear door. Miller described his attacker as five feet, nine inches tall, weighing about 145 pounds with brown hair.

The School of Education will occupy the lower two floors of both four-story buildings, and the School of Business the top two floors. In addition, space has been allocated for the School of Nursing, the Institute for Urban and Regional Studies and some departments of the School of Social Sciences and the School

CANVAS TARPS STOLEN

Two canvas tarps, each 14x20 feet, valued at $150, and a rearview mirror, worth $3, were stolen from the flatbed truck of Don Hamill of St. Louis, when the vehicle was parked at the Wagon Wheel Restaurant, 3007 Edwardswood Blvd., he reported at 3:25 p.m. Thursday.

GC at issue on parking 'leases'

The Granite City Council last week referred to its Traffic Committee for a second reading a policy issue involving requests to remove parking meters to provide parking space for business or individuals who are willing to pay an annual fee for such space.

Decision to send the matter back to the committee headed by Second Ward Alderman Sam Whitmer followed lengthy discussion a renewed request by the EMT Ambulance Service that a parking meter in front of its offices be removed, in return for an annual parking fee, to assure emergency vehicles a place to park after returning from calls.

Whitmer emphasized that his committee had rejected such a request by EMT Ambulance Service more than a month ago, along with another request by St. Elizabeth Hospital for the removal of parking meters at two locations near the hospital to facilitate alighting from or boarding automobiles by handicapped outpatients.

While several aldermen said they could see no objections to leasing meter space on an annual basis, Whitmer contended that the removal of parking meters in specific sites in isolated cases where business or individuals want parking space for their own use would establish a policy and precedent that could lead to future problems.

"I think our (Traffic) committee made the right recommendation the first time and I can't see any reason we would change it," Whitmer told the aldermen.

Alderman Roy Paulos of the Third Ward said he believes the city should grant such requests if the applicant is willing to pay an annual retainer.

Ronald Coleman, alderman of Ward Seven told the council, "I see nothing wrong with paying a year's fee. We'd probably get more income that way than through regular use of the meter."

The workshop is scheduled on a weekend format, meeting on Friday evenings and Saturdays for five sessions. Classes begin Oct. 9.

Instructors will be Rowena Lutz, who holds a doctor's degree with a major in home economics, and Marguerite Robinson of the Chicago Regional Office of the U.S. Food and Drug Administration.

"Food safety is a specific concern of anyone working with food or teaching about food," Lutz explains. "The course will cover laws governing food handlers; food additives, nutrition labeling, food facts, misinformation, special food regulations, dietary supplements, toxic substances, the work of the FDA and other topics."

Registration at university

People who wish to enroll in classes at SIUE during the fall quarter may avoid the last-minute "hassle" by picking up an appointment card for early registration.

Appointments to register Wednesday have been filled, but students from a pharmacy, a doctor, a dental laboratory and a taxi stand.

Students who wish to place the EMT Ambulance Service request on file, the motion received no second and was not carried. The request will be referred back to the Traffic Committee for reconsideration. The motion carried by a 7 to 5 vote.

The council also received and placed on file the notice of an Environmental Protection Agency permit for construction of sanitary sewer facilities for the city.

Veizer proud of Granite City force

The people of Granite City should take pride in the city's police force, as evidenced in the clearing of a recent murder, arson and burglary case in which an elderly woman was killed, according to Chief of Police Ronald J. Veizer.

Chief Veizer was the guest speaker at the Thursday noon luncheon of the Granite City Optimist Club in the YMCA.

The chief told the club he would not discuss any specific case, but explained how the Major case Squad of the St. Louis Metropolitan Area operates.

Chief Veizer praised the work and assistance that the Major case Squad gave the GC department, but noted that it was "his men" who found the lead bringing about the arrest of a suspect in the woman's death.

The chief related that three of the four homicides in the city since Jan. 1, 1976, have been cleared by the police, and the department still is working on the fourth.

Optimist Maurice Dailey reminded the members that all solicitations for the Camelot Auction must be cleared and turned in by Friday, Sept. 17. He noted that the deadline must be firm in order to get the bids and descriptions of the items to be auctioned printed in time.

Optimist Frank Res, program chairman for Tuesday, announced that Stan Wojcik, head football coach at Granite City High School, will be the guest speaker and discuss the outlook for the 1976-77 season.

The Madison businessman was among the visitors who inspected multi-million-dollar new production and testing facilities of the Quasar Electronics Co. manufacturing plant in Franklin Park. The trip was arranged by the Disco Distributing Co. of Maryland Heights, Mo., the area wholesale distributor for Quasar home television receivers.

Bakalis campaign news limitation plan highly inappropriate

The former elected state superintendent of instruction, who was replaced by another administrator when the job became appointive, is seeking election to a different statewide office this fall — that of Illinois comptroller.

Aside from other issues in the campaign, some of which favor him and some of which favor his opponent, Dr. Michael Bakalis has made a serious misstep with his call for a "code" limiting campaign news reports and for a board to monitor candidates' comments and the news coverage generated by campaign statements, disclosures and allegations.

Constitutional aspects seem to be perennially plague Dr. Bakalis. The 1970 Illinois Constitution eliminated his job by creating the State Board of Education. Now, he has decided to fight the U. S. Constitution's ban against restricting speech freedom and press freedom. There probably are occasions in which a candidate's utterances or stands or conduct appear to be unfairly presented, but there are many opportunities for them to have the facts brought into clearer focus.

In any case, we won't accept the candidate's "remedy." We suggest he go back to school and study America's Bicentennial-year-spotlighted attributes, such as liberty.

Tireless, skilled effort succeeds in murder investigation

A few days ago we went out on a limb and described the Aug. 28 murder of a 78-year-old Granite City woman as an intolerable crime for which answers simply must be found, and quickly.

Granite City police — aided by the St. Louis Metropolitan Area Major Case Squad — worked around-the-clock and succeeded in assembling evidence that permitted charges to be filed Sept. 7 against a 17-year-old suspect.

The massive and effective investigation reflects high credit on all who participated.

It is particularly meaningful to Quad-Cityans because a series of recent tragedies had raised fears that there might be a planned pattern of violence. Now, such crimes are thought to have been unrelated.

Most cases of this type here have led to arrests and convictions, with stern sentences imposed. This is surely the right response; all possible steps must be taken to deter would-be robbers and killers from seeking to take such despicable advantage of the aged and infirm.

United Way plans for the drive starting Sept. 23 are discussed by division chairmen and other leaders last week. Bill H. Terrell, general campaign chairman, presided at the meeting, with M. B. Milonski, president of the Tri-Cities Area United Way, and A. P. Steinhauer, acting UOW executive director, on hand. Showed clockwise around the table are George Moore of the civic division, Donald Vag Horn of the

Music library impresses Benny Goodman

When Benny Goodman, "King of Swing," arrived on the SIUE campus for summer commencement exercises, he was greeted with a welcoming message prominently displayed on the university lawn.

Signs out front advertising his performances are commonplace to the gentleman who turned a nation into "swing" at the Palomar Ballroom in Los Angeles back in 1935. But the role he was playing while visiting the campus was entirely different.

SIUE was honoring the leader of the golden era of dance bands with an honorary doctor of music degree.

It was the maestro's second visit to the campus this summer. Earlier, he played an engagement at the university's Mississippi River Festival. Now he was back on campus poking around in the shelves of Lovejoy Library, listening to the sounds of the '30s and '40s in the National Ragtime and Jazz Archive, and signing autographs for little old ladies who had danced to his music when they were college student age.

Even members of the younger set who caught sight of him on campus were begging for autographs, and he loved the attention.

As one excited student tucked her prize into her purse, she said, "I'll go right in there with Joe Namath's." Who said there was a generation gap?

Recollections of yesterday were being revived all over the campus. One of the secretaries in the John S. Randleman Building remembered gliding across the floor of the Aragon Ballroom at Santa Monica Beach to the sound of the Goodman orchestra.

Another SIUE staff member recalled dancing to the strains of the Goodman band in Chicago at another ballroom of the same name during the '40s.

Bob Baker (Al Stevens), station manager of WGNJ, worked as disc jockey at the old Broadview Hotel in East St. Louis during the '40s, spinning records of the big bands. He recalls that when the bands came to town, area stations would vie for interviews with the leader, bringing him to the station in a taxi.

The deejays also competed to see who could play a brand new record on the air for the first time, employing "device" ways in which to acquire the disks. There was no television then," Baker said.

A lot of dancers have swirled and swung to the Goodman sound since the band leader got his first real break with Ben Pollack's Orchestra, playing clarinet as a sideman with other musicians, including Glenn Miller.

Later, Goodman formed his own band and, for one engagement, at least, shared billing with Larry Clinton and Charlie Barnet's orchestras at Madison Square Garden. Harry James and Gene Krupa once played with the Goodman band. Dancers could enjoy "a night of fun and frolic" for only 66 cents on weeknights and 88 cents on holidays and weekends.

In those days, bands performed mostly in large ballrooms, nightclubs and hotels as well as playing at pavilions at state fairs and other outside events. "The show situation now is much different," Dan Havers, cornetist for two area jazz bands and chairman of the SIUE department of English language and literature, said.

"Back then, the ballroom would be filled with dancing couples. Down near the bandstand there would be a mass of humanity, maybe 20 people deep, listening to the music—digging the music and applauding," Havers said.

"Benny was the first white band leader to hire black musicians. He sort of eased into it," Havers said. Goodman employed Freddy Wilson at the piano and Lionel Hampton. Together with Krupa and Goodman, the four formed the band quartet. The band leader also utilized the arrangements of Fletcher Henderson, another black musician.

Goodman originated the idea of bringing a small combo forward and spotlighting it during the evening's program. The featured group played "hotter music."

Goodman has mellowed over the years, but the crinkly good cheer and the pixie smile from the earlier days are still evident.

Today, he leans toward classical music for listening enjoyment. "I don't listen much to jazz," he said.

For relaxation, Goodman listens to Mozart and Beethoven. "I do like woodwind music," he added. "I tend to listen to a lot of that." Even then, the "king of swing" has to be in the mood to listen to music.

Goodman was in a listening mood while he toured the SIUE Jazz Archive. As he moved from the stacks to the listening stations, he pulled out record after record, peeking at the titles and expressing surprise and delight at his discoveries.

Looking at old copies of sheet music in the library, Goodman said, "Oh, I remember every one of these."

But when he attempted to hum one of the tunes, one of the jazz buffs said, "You just hummed a line from 'Limehouse.'"

"So I did, so I did," Goodman said and moved on.

Marianne Kozlowski, music librarian, was happy to show the music master around the Archive. "Betcha don't have Arnold in here," he playfully kidded her. "Betcha we do," she answered.

It took two or three tries before the librarian came up with a Malcolm Arnold record, but at finally found one. Goodman was visibly pleased.

An English composer, best known for his contributions to "Bridge on the River Kwai," Arnold is a personal friend of Goodman.

Accepting the honorary degree from SIUE, Acting President Andrew J. Kochman, Goodman commented that the National Ragtime and Jazz Archive at SIUE is a "living archive of music which reflects a great deal of imagination.

"It was thrilling to listen to the vast collection of music," Goodman said. "I have no intention of retiring from the world of dance music and listening music. He recently returned from playing two concert engagements with the San Francisco Symphony Orchestra and will be off on a European tour soon. London will be his first stop.

An old church near Westminster Abbey is being reopened and, through the invitation of Malcolm Arnold, Goodman will perform there. From England, Goodman will travel to Warsaw, Prague and Budapest.

Camren attends banker course

Herbert Camren, First Granite City National Bank, was among those who attended the 22nd annual session of the Graduate School of Banking at the University of Wisconsin-Madison.

Attendance at three annual two-week sessions on the Madison campus and the satisfactory completion of extension problems between the resident sessions is required for graduation.

The school is sponsored by the Central States Conference of Bankers Associations from 16 Midwestern states. About 1,450 bankers were enrolled this year from 41 states and Puerto Rico.

The faculty of over 140 instructors included bankers who are specialists in their respective fields, practicing attorneys, business executives, economists and members of over a dozen university and college faculties.

Dr. Herbert V. Prochnow, recently retired president of the First National Bank of Chicago, is director of the school.

Students on library staff

By JEANETTE KAMPEN

Adult Services Librarian

During the 1976-77 school year, there again will be a student from each of the high schools in Granite City on the staff of the Granite City Public Library.

Alison Bell, a senior at Granite City High School North, and Cynthia Rota, a senior at Granite City High School South, will serve as representatives of GCPL at their schools. They will work at GCPL and the school libraries, helping students and faculty to obtain materials.

In addition to all the resources of GCPL, students and faculty will have access to the resources of the Lewis & Clark Library System, of which the Granite City Public Library is a member.

High school students and faculty who would like more information about this service may contact the student representative at their school.

A reminder to GCPL patrons: For your convenience, in addition to the book return in front of the library, there is a book return located at Graham's Business Products, 2220 Nameki Road (Bellevue Village Shopping Center). Look for the American eagle.

In addition to the reference collection at GCPL is "Best's Insurance Reports." The life health volume presents comprehensive statistical reports on the financial position, history, and management of life insurance companies in the United States and Canada, and gives the Best's rating of the companies.

The property-casualty volume supplies the ratings on property-casualty insurance companies in the U.S. and statistics showing their financial condition, general standing, and transactions.

In conjunction with these two reference volumes, the library also receives the monthly magazine "Best's Review," property-casualty editions.
